- The first picture book biography of Frances Hodgson Burnett
- The Secret Garden continues to be one of the best-loved children's books of all time

The Girl Who Could Imagine Anything

THE STORY OF FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT AND HER SECRET GARDEN

Angelica Carpenter, Illustrated by Helena Perez Garcia

Frances Hodgson Burnett—best known for writing The Secret Garden, Little Lord Fauntleroy, and The Little Princess—had a difficult childhood, losing her father when she was very young and moving with her family from England to Tennessee in hopes of a better life. She'd been making up stories her entire life but didn't try to write professionally until she was a teenager to help feed her family. Her first submissions to a magazine were published and she eventually became well known all over the world. This is Hodgson Burnett's life story, told in lyrical prose evoking some of the same magic of her own stories.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Angelica Shirley Carpenter writes biographies for young people and older readers, too. Her subjects are authors—Frances Hodgson Burnett, L. Frank Baum, Robert Louis Stevenson, Lewis Carroll, and Matilda Joslyn Gage. She lives with her husband in Fresno, California. A self-proclaimed Oz nut, she is a past president of the International Wizard of Oz Club. In her former life she was a librarian, the founding curator of the Arne Nixon Center for the Study of Children's Literature at California State University, Fresno.

A funny, powerful way to talk about consent and personal space

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Yvonne Pearson has written more than a dozen children's books, and her poetry has appeared in numerous publications. She is a 2018 McKnight Writing Fellow and has received two Minnesota State Arts Board grants as well as the Creative Non-Fiction Award and the Shabo Award in children's literature from the Loft Literary Center. She is a retired clinical social worker and lives with her husband in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Her three grown children and three grandchildren continue to teach her important life lessons.

Too Many Hugs

A BOOK ABOUT CONSENT

Yvonne Pearson, Illustrated by Maria Buart

Sticky hugs. Tight hugs. Smooching hugs. Too MANY hugs! Theo loves his family, but too many hugs is, well, too many.

In this adorable—but important—book on consent, Theo teaches his family about the need for respect and personal boundaries. After a day of too many hugs, he writes his five rules for hugging and puts them on the refrigerator. When Grandma comes in for a smacking, smooching hug, she sees the rules and stops. “How about a hug?” she asks. Theo can't wait to say, “YES!”

Why does consent matter? Research shows that helping kids learn to take charge of their bodies and decide for themselves what is welcome (or unwelcome) touch is a critical step to empowering them against abuse. Asking—not demanding—a hug from a child teaches him that he matters as a person and that he is as deserving of respect as a grownup. Too Many Hugs is a funny, powerful way to get that life-changing lesson started!

The Witness Trees

HISTORIC MOMENTS AND THE TREES WHO WATCHED THEM HAPPEN

Ryan G. Van Cleave, Illustrated by Dom Dom

In evocative verse and stunning artwork, The Witness Trees is the story of the world's most enduring witnesses: the trees. From the Flower of Kent apple tree still standing in Sir Isaac Newton's yard, to the English oak given to Jesse Owens after facing down Hitler at the 1936 Berlin Olympics, to the California redwood saved from destruction by July Butterfly Hill, to the Callery pear tree still miraculously alive after the World Trade Towers fell, The Witness Trees is a moving tribute to the world's most famous trees, many of which still need humanity's protection. Be moved, be inspired, be amazed by the quiet, reverberating voices of nature's sentinels: the witness trees.

Features 20 different trees from all over the world

“An enchanting adventure that captures the spirit of storytelling.”
 –Julian Lennon

For you unlock magic that is hidden within, and opening the cover is how you begin. Oh, all the worlds and the places you'll see; when you hold a book, you hold the key.

When You Open a Book is a magical ode to the world's grandest adventure of all: reading a book. Meet dragons, pirates, merfolk, lollipop trees, lemonade tides, and more as you journey through the charming text of author Caroline Derlatka and whimsical art of Italian illustrator Sara Ugolotti.

I Love You, Little Truck

David Miles & Stephanie Miles, Illustrated by Natasha Molins

Sometimes kids—and little trucks—need to be reassured of a parent's love. In I Love You, Little Truck, Big Truck loves Little Truck with a full heart—but Little Truck can't help but wonder. "Little Truck smiled, then it sank to a frown. / 'But what about times I might let you down? / Like when I spill oil or get grease on the rugs. / Even then, will you give me your kisses and hugs?" In a heartwarming exchange featuring favorite construction trucks, Big Truck shows how a parent's love overcomes oil spills, cement, and even the deepest of holes. Adorable illustrations from Natasha Mollins complement the simple, rhyming text to convey an endearing message that kids will want to hear—and feel—again and again.

A heartwarming "I Love You" book for kids who love trucks

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

David is an award-winning and bestselling author and illustrator of over 40 books, including Book, The Interactive Constitution, Allegro, Unicorn and Horse, and other titles.

It all started as a kid, when Natasha was always asking for a pen to doodle. She even made puppy animations on PowerPoint and collages of her favorite shows in Photoshop. Today, she's a London-based illustrator, animator, and designer.

"A bulldozer," said Little Truck, "That went BOOM. BANG. SPLAT! Could 'all of your heart' Love someone like that?"

Big Truck laughed gently. "We all have bad days. But grumpy or happy, I'll love you all ways."

"A backhoe," said Little Truck, "Might dig a deep hole! And nothing could reach it—No ladder or pole."

"Maybe," said Big Truck, "But I'd find a way through. No sadness or darkness Could keep me from you."

"But there isn't a distance, No ocean or beach, No jungle or mountain That love cannot reach."

"All of my heart' means That I'll be with you— Wherever you go And whatever you do."

A charming reminder for kids that even the worst things don't last forever.

This Will Pass

J. Donnini, Illustrated by Luke Scriven

It's time for little Crue's first big adventure with his Great Uncle Ollie, but he can't help but worry: What if the boat breaks? Or an octopus swallows them in one gulp? Or a family of whales takes over the boat? It seems the worries will follow him around forever until Great Uncle Ollie squeezes his hand and shares his secret mantra: Keep calm, it will pass.

Rise Up with a Song

Diane Worthey, Illustrated by Olga Helena Perez Garcia

In 1867 England, a girl learned to be proper and speak when spoken to. But one girl marched to a different beat. Ethel Smyth climbed fences, explored graveyards, and yearned to become a famous composer at a time when only men could publish their music. But become a composer she did, first signing her music as E. Smyth so people couldn't guess her gender, then eventually writing openly as a woman (but still sometimes not getting paid!). Ethel had had enough. She joined the suffragette movement, marching in the streets and fighting for the right to vote. She even composed the famous "March of the Women" battle cry—and directed it from her cell window with a toothbrush when she was put into prison.

The first-ever picture book about Ethel Smyth, the world-famous composer and suffragette!

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Rise Up With a Song: The True Story of Ethel Smyth, Suffragette Composer is the second picture book biography for Diane Worthey, author of IN ONE EAR & OUT THE OTHER: ANTONIA BRICO & HER AMAZINGLY MUSICAL LIFE, which was a 2020 Junior Library Guild Gold Standard Selection and won the first place 2021 Paterson Prize for Young Readers in Grades 4-6. In addition to writing books for children with classical music themes, Diane is a classically trained violinist and performs in the Washington-Idaho Symphony. She also teaches violin and viola to all ages of budding musicians at the University of Idaho Preparatory Division in Moscow, Idaho. Visit her at dianeworthey.blog

The women needed a battle cry that would ring through the streets. Ethel set pen to paper. Notes flooded the page.

Ethel and her friends marched and chanted through the streets of London.

No one listened to their pleas.

"Not fair!" said Ethel.

A delightful mix of music, history, art, and empowerment

One such morning, a crowd of women gathered outside in the courtyard. Where was Ethel?

Suddenly, the women heard the steady rap of a baton from high above.

As they gazed skyward, Ethel leaned gallantly out her cell window, toothbrush in hand, and beat time with a frenzy.

A story about how children feel the need to be 'perfect' for their parents.

WRITTEN BY SAMUEL

ILLUSTRATED
BY JESSICA
KNIGHT

From the author of 'What Wesley Wore', 'Where Bjorn Belongs' & 'What Makes a Lemur Listen'.

Daisy woke up - it was morning!
She saw the dandelions nearby.
She picked one and held it tightly.

TPS Size: 240 x 240 mm
Extent: 32pp

Posie felt the need to be 'perfect', just like everything else in her dads' flower shop. While she longed for a puppy, and muddy, messy play, her dads kept everything 'just right' and would make Daisy turn every frown upside-down. After destroying the flower shop, Posie's magical, flowery dream helps the family to finally relate and emotionally reconnect.

Despite her delicate name, Daisy HATED flowers.

Her Daddy and Pappa ran the 'Perfect Posies' flower shop, always PERFECTLY dressed, and so proud of their prize-winning, PERFECT bouquets.

Flowers were PERFECT - just like EVERYTHING ELSE in her life.

Daisy felt like she needed to be 'perfect' too... but all SHE wanted to do, was have fun!

"As soon as the shop closes, Buttercup," Pappa would say. But it was ALWAYS dark by the time the shop ACTUALLY closed.

Then Daddy would ALWAYS remind her that dogs were NOT allowed in the flower shop.

Daisy began to wonder if her dads wanted to spend ANY time with her at all. And then, one Friday...

"Are you ready for some fun, Flower?" Pappa smiled. "Daddy can cover the shop so we can go to the park," Daisy grabbed her coat and wellies and then ran all the way.

She took a running jump into her very first puddle, when...

"Hang on Honey-Bee - this way." Pappa smiled, taking Daisy's hand and walking her to the PERFECTLY PINK rose garden.

"Aren't they beautiful?" Pappa asked. Daisy just shrugged.

ADVANCED INFORMATION SHEET

A 'GENTLY RELATABLE' STORY ABOUT WHEN SCHOOL CAN BE HARD.

This book introduces readers to neurodiversity, through the lovable school dog, Dexter. Scenarios like the first day of term, outdoor learning, and the school play can affect children in different ways, but Dexter has a way of naturally helping all the diverse children he meets, making them feel calm and happy.

Written by teacher Lucy Plunkett, a special needs consultant and parent of an autistic child - as well as the owner of a school dog!

Our author says, "I was a Primary Teacher and SENCO for fifteen years before moving on to my role as a Specialist Advisory Teacher for communication and autism. I'm passionate about supporting wellbeing and raising awareness of additional needs, diversity and inclusivity. It's particularly close to my heart as my eldest daughter is autistic. I wrote my stories when I couldn't find what I was looking for to support her and my pupils. I hope that the positive narratives and diverse characters can be used as a safe starting point for joyful discussion."

Features characters with physical disabilities, neurological conditions and additional emotional needs.

A SPELLBINDING STORY THAT BRINGS TO LIFE THE PRECIOUS MOMENTS BETWEEN A MOTHER AND DAUGHTER, WHILE OVERTURNING LONG-HELD CONVENTIONS OF VILLAINOUS WITCHES.

The magical moments between a mother and her daughter as some of the most treasured memories you'll make. But what if your mummy happens to be a witch?

This wonderfully witchy story is a cauldron of utterly charming ingredients told through the eyes of a little witchling

From dandelion ice-cream to pumpkin perfume and cauldron baths, and best of all a mummy who can wake up the sun and make the stars shine.

INCLUDES DANDELION ICE-SCREAM RECIPE

WRITTEN BY AUTHOR & WICKEDLY-POPULAR GREAT BRITISH BAKE-OFF STAR HELENA GARCIA.

NEN AND THE LONELY FISHERMAN

AN AWARD-WINNING, LGBT TALE OF LOVE IN ADVERSITY WITH SUBTLE UNDERTONES OF SUSTAINABILITY ACTING AS A REMINDER TO CARE FOR PEOPLE AND PLANET.

A modern adaptation of the classic 'little mermaid' tale, with a merman's search for true love. Nen sends a song of hope across the sea while a lonely, caring young fisherman called Ernest hopes to find warmth in his empty heart. As the two meet, they feel a special connection. But Nen's father Pelagios creates a wild sea storm to protect his son from the humans who neglect and damage the precious oceans. Can Nen save Ernest? Will love prevail?

- Written by Ian Eagleton, former primary teacher, education consultant and creator of The Reading Realm app that helps nurture a love of reading and expand reading lists for young children.

- Illustrated by multi-award-winning artist James Mayhew, famous for the 'Mrs Noah' and best-selling 'Katie' series. His work for 'The Boy and the Cloth of Dreams' won the New York Times book illustration award.

IT CAN BE SO HARD TO FIND A PET THAT CHANGES COLOUR,
BUT WHAT IF IT'S THEIR OWNER THAT NEEDS FINDING?

- Helps children to think about 'stranger danger' and who might be 'safe' grown-ups.
- Informs readers with back matter that helps them understand what to do if they get lost and staying safe in busy places.

Author: Cara Matheson, former magazine journalist.

"I wanted to convey a little bit of the magic, chaos and fun a pet brings to a big blended, multicultural family, such as my own, and depict these groupings in a positive way. Integrating a powerful message that keeps children safe, makes this book even more special."

Illustrator:
Mirna Imamovic

Based in Sarajevo, Mirna has illustrated several Owlet Press titles.

Floss, the colour-changing cockapoo is the perfect fit for this beautifully blended mixed-race family. From fun in the ice-cream parlour, to teasing the neighbour's tabbies, Floss finds mischief at every turn, but when things go wrong, she uses her skills for good, and saves the day. A celebration of the bond between an owner and their pet, with a core message that helps children to understand stranger danger and know what to do if they get lost.

'UNCLE BOBBY'S WEDDING'

A FRESH REIMAGINING OF A CLASSIC TALE, WITH A LONG-AWAITED TWIST.

This inspiring LGBT love story truly celebrates feminism, strength and justice.

While Cinder dreams of a girl with eyes the colour of the sea, Princess Ella longs for something she cannot yet imagine. When the two girls meet, their hearts are filled with joy, but what will happen when the clock strikes midnight?

With one family being a source of encouragement, the other determined to crush all attempts at happiness, the odds are firmly stacked against our heroes. Yet with the power of love and strength, hope prevails. The result is a richly purposeful and inspirational, tale where girl meets girl and love faces adversity. Will Cinder and Ella find their happily ever after?

BARBARA SLADE

ADVANCED INFORMATION SHEET

AN EXCITING ADVENTURE IN THE ICE, TO WARM THE COLDEST OF HEARTS.

A fantastic LGBT spin on the much-loved winter tale, 'The Snow Queen'.

Every Christmas Eve, a lonely woodcutter named Kai carves statues for anyone who might pass by. But one magical night his loneliness is soothed by a visit from the snow prince. Feared by many, Kai sees hope in the prince's eyes, but as the prince freezes once more, imprisoned in his ice-palace, can Kai break the curse?

By Ian Eagleton and Davide Ortu

"Very often we are told stories about someone, or rumours are spread about them, and we build up a picture in our mind that's totally wrong. The villain of my story might just be misunderstood, and at the end of the story, it's Kai's touch that saves the Snow Prince from his curse. Up until that point, Kai is only ever seen wearing gloves and we felt that gently touching someone's face was such a powerful thing that so many of us hasn't been able to do in recent times."

RORY'S ROOM OF RECTANGLES

Size: 240 x 240 mm | Extent: 32pp

A book about blended families and big feelings, centred around Rory's first Father's Day without his dad living at home.

Rory loves his dad, but he also really likes his step-dad, Tony. He has weekends with Dad in the park and makes imaginary dens with Tony, so when Father's Day comes, who should he make his card for at school? Spotting his frustration, Tony spends his 'rainy-day pennies' to take Rory somewhere new - an ART GALLERY, full of wonders. As they pause to reflect in a huge room of rectangles, Rory's sees his conflicting feelings glistening back at him in many powerful colours. Then, a 'chance' encounter with Dad afterwards helps Rory realise, he doesn't have to feel torn at all,

Where BJÖRN Belongs

By Samuel Langley-Swain
and Mirna Imamovic

A sensitive Christmas story of friendship and belonging, centered around the unbreakable bond between a boy and a bear - a classic in the making.

Due to his autism, Arctic-enthusiast Arthur does not like Christmas, the noise, the lights, and the crowds. He keeps his toy polar bear close, for security. After losing his precious bear and asking Father Christmas for a new one, he wakes up to find a REAL polar bear in his garden! Arthur names his new friend Björn and in spite of his best efforts to keep Björn cold and happy, realises that he needs to help his friend return to the Arctic, where he belongs. Time for some more Christmas magic . . .

WHAT MAKES A LEMUR LISTEN?

Samuel Langley-Swain

Helen Panayi

For children, this charming story is about a lemur who learns to listen.
For adults, the text explores demand avoidance & alternative parenting styles.

- From the author of 'What Wesley Wore' and 'Storm in a Jar' picture books.
- Written from personal experience of parenting a neuro-diverse child who struggles to listen.
- Educates about lemurs and Madagascan wildlife.
- Debut from Greek-Cypriot-heritage illustrator, who trained in Loughborough, UK.

Join Maki on his adventures through the Madagascan forest, where things may not be as they seem. Can clever chameleon, Sofina, help Maki to listen when it matters the most?

'Just like all ring-tailed lemurs, Maki liked to bathe in the sun and huddle under the moon. BUT one thing Maki DIDN'T like to do, was LISTEN!'

Picture Book | Extent: 32pp
Size: 215 x 304 mm
Publication: 05.07.22

Author: Monika Singh Gangotra
Illustrator: Michaela Dias-Hayes

"When Amrita was just a 'little seed', growing in my tummy, her Nani travelled all the way from India with a cutting from that tree, to be with us during this special time."

"The Gifts That Grow is a tale of generational love expressed through the importance of nurturing our environment for future generations to enjoy, even though we may never benefit from its rewards ourselves."

Selling points

- Author Monika Singh Gangotra, won The Big Family Cooking Showdown in 2017 (BBC2 & Netflix) and has a content focus on family and South Asian culture.
- Second in the picture book series to challenge outdated views around colourism in an uplifting way using familial love and empowerment.
- Partnership between two female creators of colour - a South Asian author and a dual heritage Illustrator with Jamaican heritage with an extended Indian family, which authentically reflects the world of the main characters and their families.
- Author's lived experiences and views as a mother contribute to positive social movement to tackle colourism across black and brown communities everywhere.

The second in a joyful 'own voice' picture book series, based on best friends Amrita and Kiki. Centred around a grandparent planting a Jamun tree to celebrate Amrita's birth, this story celebrates gifts of love that grow through generations.

ADVANCED INFORMATION SHEET

A suitcase of stories from Grandpa Jazz connects Frank to his rich Mauritian heritage and is also the start of an epic adventure!

Tarah L. Gear

- Own-voiced title from Mauritian author, based on her family experiences.

Mirna Imamovic

- Picture book debut from new Bosnian talent.

ISBN: 978-1-913339-10-4
Picture Book | Paperback
Size: 245 x 245 mm

Publication: 07.06.22

- Showcases Mauritian culture.
- Written from personal experience of privilege and racism experienced within one dual-heritage family.
- Educates about Windrush, immigration and mixed race family make-ups.
- Includes back matter about heritage and elements of anti-racism.

"I wrote this book to show how storytelling is a critical process in breaking down the construct of race, but also to depict the loving and fun relationship between a kid and his grandpa -two people who are captivated, enthralled, fun-loving, fiery, silly, eccentric and in a world of their own, but who the world treats differently because of a superficial difference."

By Jess Rose

Illustrator of two smash-hit Owllet titles

PIP, THE RESILIENT, RUBBISH-SORTING PIGEON IS NEVER AFRAID TO FAIL. EXPLORING NEW SOLUTIONS FOR ANY MISADVENTURE!

“My child loves to build and make things from our recycling pile: coming up with all sorts of contraptions to give rubbish endless possibilities. This inspired Pip’s character – a pigeon who thinks differently, doesn’t try to fit into a mould, and isn’t scared to be themselves. I then explored how this one pigeon might tackle the litter around towns and cities, without being afraid to try again if they failed. Hopefully children will ‘be more Pip’ and be inspired to embrace failure, as they do their bit to improve our world, having confidence in themselves and their ability to make a difference.”

- Inspires children to adopt a growth mindset and increases emotional resilience.
- Encourages pro active approaches to waste.
- Builds determination by embracing failure as an opportunity to learn and relearn quickly.
- Includes 'cockroach code' which guides adults to enhance the reading experience.

PICTURE BOOK

ALICE IN WONDERLAND THE MAD HATTER'S TEA PARTY

With the simply extraordinary art of Eric Puybaret, Alice and her friends come brilliantly to life for the picture book reader. Read along as Alice encounters the Cheshire Cat, attends a tea party with the Mad Hatter and his friends, plays croquet with the Queen and her retinue, defends herself at trial, and ultimately returns home. Though the original Alice text might be too difficult to understand for pre-readers, the one-of-a-kind characters and fantastical situations are silly and fun and perfect for a picture book adaptation.

THE JUNGLE BOOK: MOWGLI'S ADVENTURES

Rudyard Kipling's timeless tale of a young boy lost in the jungles of India is now adapted for young children. This delightfully written and story focuses on the magic of the jungle and the one-of-a-kind characters and fantastical situations that Mowgli finds himself in. The book tells the simple story of Mowgli, who is raised by Mother and Father Wolf and taught the ways of the jungle by Baloo the bear. While this is a faithful introduction to the classic, it doesn't attempt to cover all the action from the original story— it focuses instead on the parts children will understand and enjoy.

Meet Olive, the little elephant with a very big heart. She feels very small, but it's hard not to, when you have very big friends!

Olive is often overlooked by the other animals, but is determined to get noticed. As she goes about her day, she discovers that, despite their large size and self importance, Hippo, Zebra, Giraffe and Lion all have a problem that Olive can solve. Maybe mighty actions can come from even the smallest packages! The charming text is engaging, and the lesson about being yourself, and not changing to fit in with others, is valuable to young children.

BALLET BUNNY

This charming, cute, and beautifully illustrated tale follows Little Bunny as her dancing around the house at all hours of the day (and night!) lead her parents to sign her up for ballet class! Children will delight in reading and rereading the rhyming text that takes them through Bunny's first day of plies, pirouettes, relevés, and sautés. Of course Bunny feels shy. Yes, Bunny feels like everyone knows more than her. But she is determined to practice and get better and better so that one day soon, everyone will know her as Ballet Bunny..

Little Bunny likes to prance, bounce and twirl,
jiggle, dance.

And you might think that something's wrong
if she doesn't have her tutu on.

Taking turns, they practice leaping.
Then it's time for big-step skipping.

Little Bunny tries to spin.
Miss Lamur says,
"Try that pirouette again."

Format: PAPERBACK
270 X 225MM

Extent: 32pp

Price: £6.99

Rights: World

The safari park monkeys are a smart bunch! They are always up to something – and one day Banana Bill has an ingenious plan. With warm and witty illustrations by Pascal Biet this is a hilarious celebration of monkey mayhem.

Key selling points

- Highly entertaining safari park adventure story
- Award-winning illustrator
- Perfect for young kids 3+

AUTHOR:

Fiona Manlove was born in London and studied in Kent. After travelling to the USA and Australia in her early 20s, she returned to England where she married and had two children and now lives in Surrey. Fiona is a prolific writer for all ages from young children to young adults. This is her second book for Ragged Bears. The first was The Cat Sat on the Mat.

ILLUSTRATOR:

Pascal Biet was born in a lovely medieval town in the Loire Valley in France. He became interested in drawing from a young age. The Smurfs and Babar were inspirations, to name a few. Pascal chose to continue his studies in the arts. First high school in Tours, applied arts section, then to the ETIC school in Blois. After ETIC, Pascal wanted to work in children's illustration. He participated in the contest that the Book Fair in Bologna, Italy, organizes every year. His illustrations were selected and exhibited there at the Fiera del Libro per Ragazzi in April 1997. Since then he has illustrated several picture books which have been published in many countries.

Yoga for Kids is a simple look at what yoga is and how it can help us come into balance, with wonderful illustrations and a glossary of some of the commonly used Sanskrit terms.

AUTHOR: I was based in Tanzania from 1996 - 1998 and began to practise yoga when expecting my son in 1996. On return to Europe in 1998 I began to study with the College of Ayurveda at the Kailash clinic in St John's wood. I then trained in yoga and Ayurveda in Coimbatore, India in 2002 at Arsha Yoga Vidya Peetam Trust and later qualified as a yoga teacher in 2006 with the British Wheel of Yoga. I have also worked intermittently in the world of children's books - so I'm delighted to have the opportunity to combine these two worlds in Yoga for Kids.

ILLUSTRATOR: I paint professionally and have also worked as an illustrator for Scholastic children's books. I draw inspiration from the works of artists like Marc Chagall, Salvador Dalí and Gustav Klimt, and illustrators like Janet and Anne Grahame Johnstone, Maurice Sendak and Quentin Blake. I did my graduate diploma in applied arts and later went on to get a master's degree in art history. I have also studied the traditional art of Rajasthani miniature painting. For my work in traditional and contemporary art, I have received merit awards at the state and national levels. I am a member of the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators (SCBWI), the only professional body for individuals who write, illustrate and translate for children and young adults. I'm a big animation movie buff, and enjoy watching cartoons with my son. We share a love for books by Roald Dahl, J.K. Rowling, Enid Blyton and Ruskin Bond. I am currently based in New Delhi, India.

The Sofia Tree

Written by Alberto Benevelli
Illustrated by Nicoletta Bertelle

ISBN: 9781857144888
Pub date: 2nd September 2021
Age range: 4+
Format: Hardback 220 x 240mm
Extent: 36pp
Price: £9.99

Sofia is excited about Christmas coming and is determined that her tree will be the most beautifully decorated. With the help of the forester, she finds the perfect fir tree and takes it by sledge back home. Then to her surprise she is visited by an angel and Sofia is taken on a very special journey ... This is a magical and soulful Christmas story for people of all ages to enjoy.

AUTHOR: Alberto Benevelli has had 80 books published, many of which have been translated into different languages and also exhibited in major Italian illustration exhibitions. He loves Christmas and he has written 11 books on this subject. He says of himself: "I write I admit, but I'm not a writer. Writers write for words, I write for pictures. When I make up a story in my mind, it comes firstly in figures and colours. Then I translate them into words. It is a very difficult process because, even if the words and the images coexist together in the book, they speak different languages."

ILLUSTRATOR: Nicoletta Bertelle lives in Italy: In thirty years I have illustrated over 120 books, most of which are translated into many languages. I have illustrated books, posters, sets, panels, paintings, wooden objects ... and I work with children in schools, museums and libraries, doing workshops and animated readings with them. Illustrating is a source of joy for me!

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A story which celebrates the true meaning of Christmas
- Original, magical and warm illustrations
- Perfect accompaniment to the holiday season with a Nativity theme
